

develop plans for SOLAS research focusing on shipping, and to bring together groups of researchers keen to contribute to this research. Register your interest by sending this form filled up to David Turner by email.

Upcoming deadlines

AUGUST:

- 3rd Sino-European School on Atmospheric Chemistry (SESAC), Shanghai, China, 21 - 30 November 2017.
Apply by 31 August (Applications must include your CV, research interest and description of your work- Max length 3 pages- and should be sent by email)
- IOCCP half-day workshop on Marine Carbon and Biogeochemistry Data Management and Synthesis, 23 August 2017, as an official part of the 10th International Carbon Dioxide Conference.
For participation contact the IOCCP office via email by 16 August, 16:00 CET.
- SOCAT is celebrating its 10th anniversary. If you like to participate in a 'SOCAT at 10' festive dinner on 23 August 2017 at 7 pm, contact the organiser Dorothee Bakker via email by 16 August, 16:00 CET.
- 5th International Symposium on Arctic Research (ISAR-5), Tokyo, Japan, 15-18 January 2018.
Submit an abstract by 31 August.

SEPTEMBER:

- Sustainable Ocean Summit, Halifax, Canada, 29 November - 1 December 2017.
Submit an abstract by 1 September.
- Ocean Sciences Meeting, Portland, USA, 11-16 February 2018.
Submit an abstract to a SOLAS relevant session by 6 September.
- V congress of physical oceanography, meteorology and climate of the Eastern South Pacific, Concepcion, Chile, 6-10 November 2017.
Submit an abstract by 6 September.

First Global Ocean Science Report by IOC-UNESCO

How, where, and by whom is ocean science conducted around the world?

Global Ocean Science Report – The Current Status of Ocean Science around the World

On World Oceans Day, 8 June 2017, UNESCO's Intergovernmental Oceanographic Commission presented the first ever global stock-taking of marine science at the United Nations' Ocean Conference in New York.

The Global Ocean Science Report identifies and quantifies the key elements of ocean science at the national, regional and global scales, including workforce, infrastructure and publications. It is the first collective attempt to systematically highlight opportunities as well as capacity gaps to advance international collaboration in ocean science and technology.

Developed as a resource for policy-makers, academics and other stakeholders seeking to harness the potential of ocean science to address global challenges, the Report makes a case for increased funding in view of the ocean's economic importance and key role in regulating the climate.

To be published every five years, the inaugural Report also serves as an instrument to assess progress in the accomplishment of Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) 14 on the conservation and use of the oceans, seas and marine resources.

The full Report, in English, as well as the Executive Summary, in the six official UN languages, are available online here.

IPCC Special Report on Global Warming of 1.5 °C

Following an IPCC call for nominations in October 2016 to member governments and observer organizations for experts to participate in the Special Report on Global Warming of 1.5 °C, the authors are now working on a first draft report of the Special Report on Global Warming of 1.5 °C, which will be available for expert review from 31 July 2017 to 24 September 2017 midnight (GMT +1).

An online registration process has been developed and is open for prospective expert reviewers via the IPCC web site, registration will close on 17 September 2017 midnight (GMT +1).

Registration can be done here.

Please also see an information note explaining the Expert Review process here.
